AFTER CRISIS SOLUTIONS

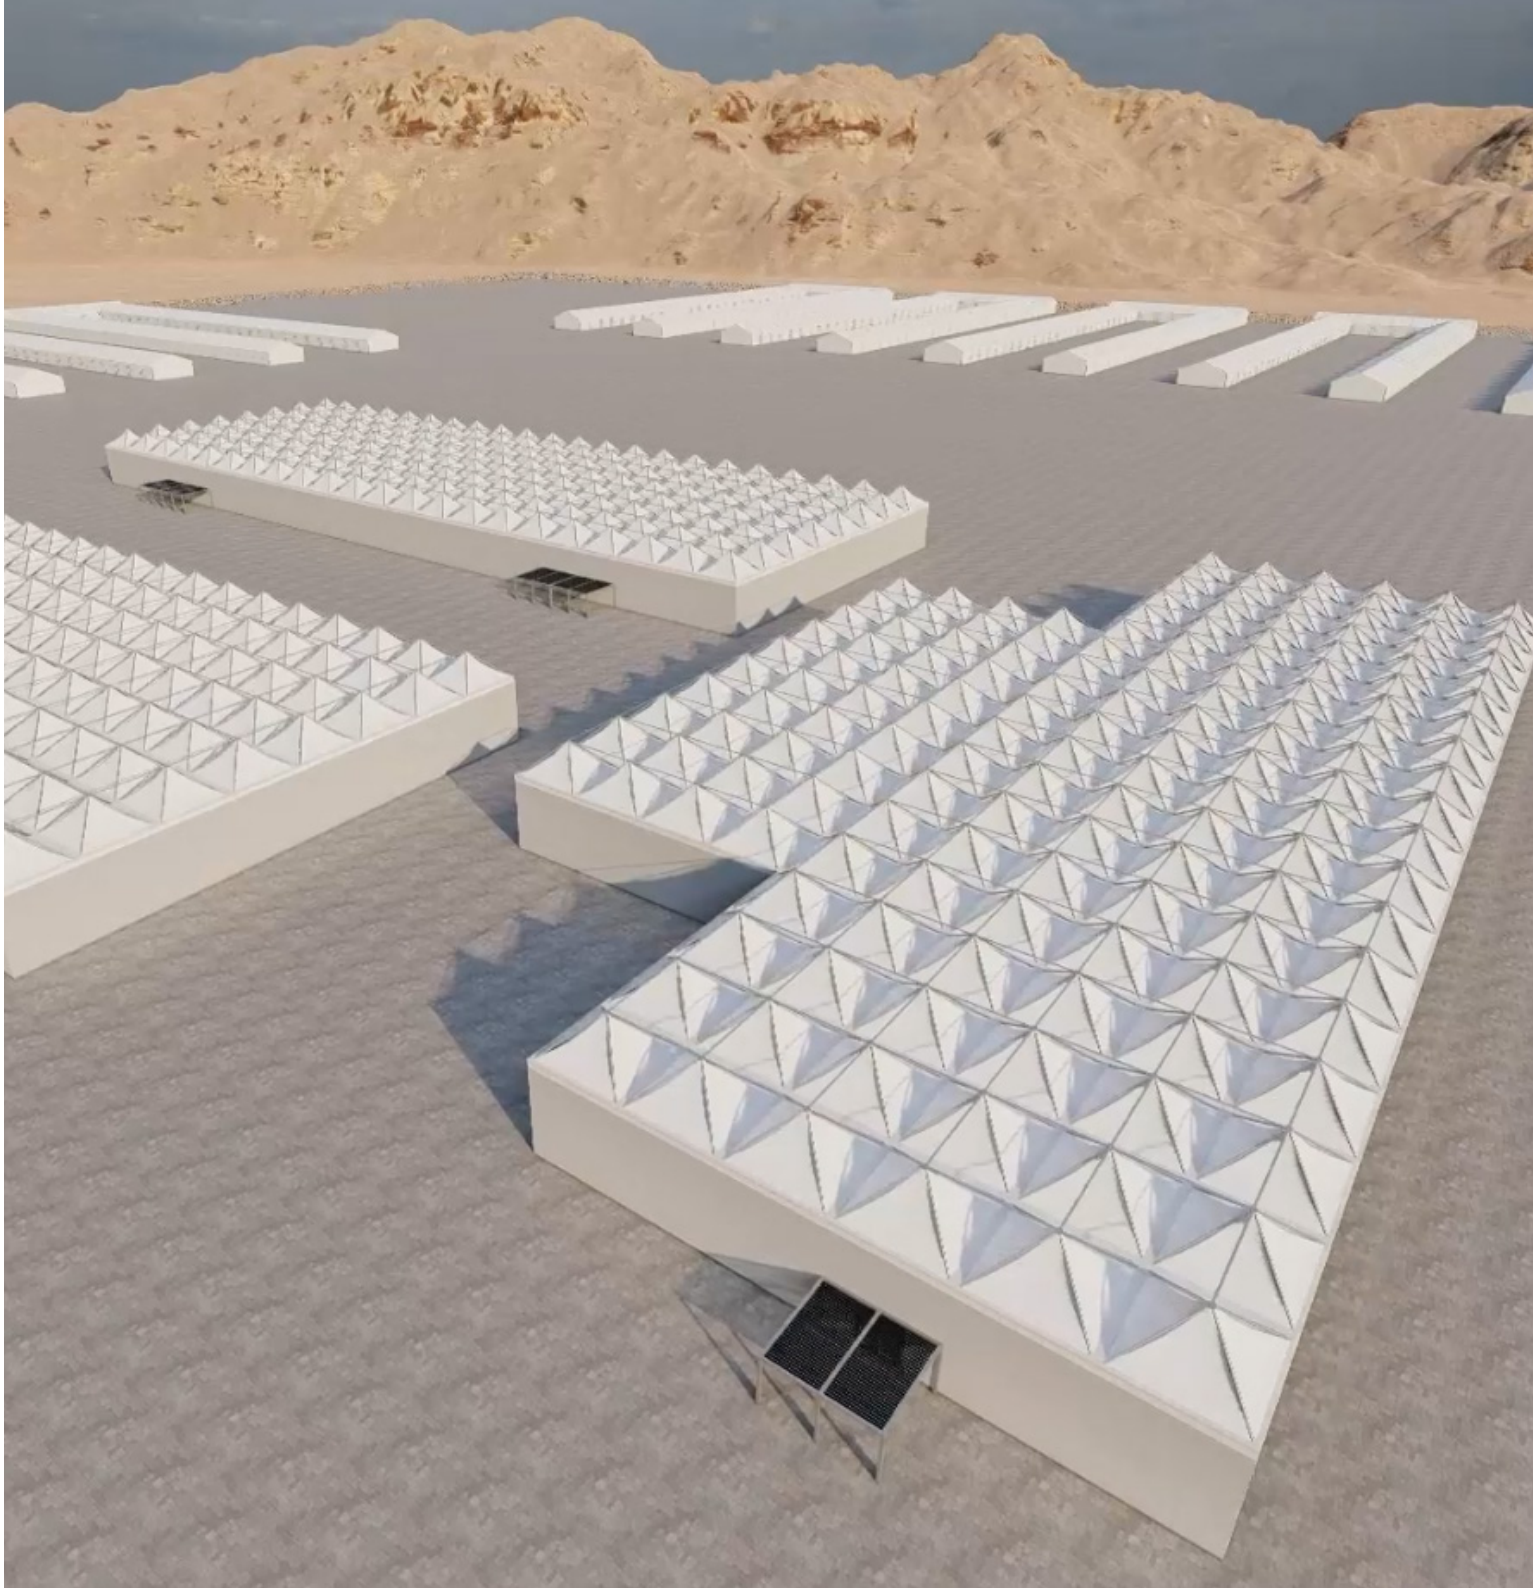

MODULAR CONSTRUCTION

A Solution After Crisis

Modular construction offers a fast and flexible solution for rebuilding essential facilities after a crisis. Introduced by ALBADDAD in the 1970s, this system uses prefabricated aluminum or steel components that are customizable and expandable. Structures can be assembled in weeks, used for decades, and provide the same comfort as traditional buildings.

Scalable, relocatable, and ideal for adapting to changing community needs, modular construction efficiently restores critical infrastructure. For example, we built field hospitals in under 21 days during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Our modular buildings are durable, and can be installed in record time. These semi-permanent structures are designed to last, with many still in use worldwide as warehouses, terminals, and supermarkets.

Rebuilding Social Infrastructure

Restoring normalcy quickly after a crisis requires the rapid rebuilding of social infrastructure. We offer modular building solutions for critical infrastructure components, with blueprints, materials, and manpower ready to construct the following facilities:

- HOUSING CAMPUSES
- HEALTHCARE FACILITIES
- EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES
- FLAT PACKS
